

The big picture

Douglas I. Busch is focusing on the big picture in northern Illinois. The photographer was working on Tuesday, compiling images of Rockford which will be on display later in a traveling museum exhibit and portfolio, "Contrasts: A Vision into Northern Illinois." The collection of 50 photographs, selected from 450 images throughout northern Illinois, will be available for purchase. The project coordinator for the picture series, Cheryl Eaglin